THE ROYAL BOX.

King Edward has taken to equestrian exercise as a means of keeping his weight down. Since the rabbit hole mishap, which landed him, his majesty has been unable to take walking exercise.

The young Duke of Saxe-Weimar, heir presumptive to the throne of Holland, is immensely wealthy and has more invested in private business enterprises than any other royal personage living.

The young sultan of Johore possesses one great peculiarity. Many years ago an accident with a horse resulted in the loss of nearly all his teeth. These were replaced by teeth of solid gold, in each of which a large diamond was placed.

Even as a child Emperor William was fond of the pomp of militarism. It is said that it was a source of great pleasure to the little prince that sentinels had to present arms to him, so much so that he sometimes did not wait till he was fully dressed, but hastened down into court to receive the military honors which he loved so well.

To the Public and People of Barre.

Mr. P. M. Daly of St. Albans is to open a first class Barre restaurant in the Tomlinson block, Main street, No. 255. Mr. Daly comes highly recommended to Barre, having 35 years' experience in the business. His motto is neatness and assures the people of Barre that the place is to be run at all times under his own personal observation; also that you receive the best of attention and economy by his help. This restaurant is open to the public. We want you all to come and see for yourself which is the best proof. Will be open Saturday, July 28, 1906.

Low Rate Sunday Excursion.

The Central Vermont Railway Company will run another of its popular low rate Sunday excursions on Sunday, July 29 from White River Junction to St. Albans and back and all along the line. Train leaves Barre at 8:30 and returning arrives at Barre at 8:30 p. m. The fare from Barre to Burlington and return will be $1.25 and other points to correspond.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

Office of the City Treasurer, Barre, Vt., July 10, 1906.

All taxpayers of the City of Barre are hereby notified that the city council of this city have this day placed the tax bill for the year 1906 in my hands for collection and are further notified that said taxes must be paid at this office on or before the 20th day of August, 1906. If not paid on or before that date there will be added to the tax bill five per cent, together with the officer's fees for collection, namely, eight per cent on tax bill, ten cents for the warrant and fifty cents officer's fees. Remember, August 20, 1906, is the last date that you can pay your taxes this year without the conditions above enumerated.

James Mackay, City Treasurer.

NOTICE.

PURE FOOD.

Despite not the humble prime. It is pure food—Atlanta Constitution.

"Harris across the sea" are not at present reached over for our meat—Chicago News.

It would be offensive, perhaps, to suggest that the inspection should be extended to the kitchens of the hotels and restaurants.—Chicago Tribune.

The right to pure food is not mentioned in the Declaration of Independence, but it is so inalienable as to cause amazement that organized capital in this country should ever have questioned it.—Kansas City Star.

The average gentile will in the future have much respect for kosher meat and be disposed to consider that scrupulous inspection, as insisted upon by the faithful of the Hebrew race, is indeed not the least important of religious observances.—Providence Journal.

FLOWER AND TREE.

An olive tree begins to yield at three years old, an orange tree not until it is five.

The banana, like most plants, has its peculiar disease—a blight which causes much loss in Central America.

A spoonful of mustard in a gallon of water will kill insects in the earth. This is good for potted plants.

The lady's slipper is considered in the symbolism of flowers to be a declaration of war, or rather, of andacity, by the lady to the gentleman, equivalent to the expression, "Win me if you can."

The "sorrowful tree," which grows on the island of Goa, near Bombay, is so called because it has a drooping, sad appearance during the daytime. Its aspect changes as the sun goes down. Then its leaves open and fragrant blossoms appear.

HAS TWO BIRTHDAYS.

Miss Ida Was Formally Given Robert Louis Stevenson's.

New York, July 28.—Miss Annie Ide, whose marriage to W. Bourke Cockran of this city will soon take place, celebrates her birthday on November 13 instead of December 25, the actual date of her birth. The birthday she celebrates was formally presented to her by Robert Louis Stevenson, the author, to whom the predicament of a girl condemned to the celebration of her birthday on Christmas made an irresistible appeal.

When she was a little girl she was in Samoa with her father, Henry C. Ide, who went there from Vermont as United States commissioner, later becoming chief justice of Samoa. There Annie Ide, a small girl in pinafores, gladdened the heart of Robert Louis Stevenson and spent much time at the Stevenson bungalow. Complaining of her lack of birthdays, Mr. Stevenson came to the rescue, and the next day Mr. Ide received the following document:

I, Robert Louis Stevenson, advocate of the Scotch bar, author of "The Master of Ballantrae" and "Moral Emblems," civil engineer, sole owner and patentee of the palace and plantation known as Vailima, in the island of Upolu, Samoa, a British subject, being in sound mind and perfectly well, I thank you, in homage, in consideration that Miss Annie H. Ide, daughter of H. C. Ide, was born out of all reason upon Christmas day, and is therefore, out of all justice, denied the consolation and profit of a proper birthday; and, considering that I, the said Robert Louis Stevenson, have attained such an age that I have now no further use for a birthday; and in consideration that I have met H. C. Ide, the father of the said Annie H. Ide, and found him about as white a land commissioner as I require: Have transferred to the said Annie H. Ide all and whole my rights and privileges in the 13th day of November, formerly my birthday, now hereby and henceforth the birthday of the said Annie H. Ide, to have, hold, exercise and enjoy the same in the customary manner by the sporting of fine raiment, eating of rich meats and receipts of gifts, compliments and copies of verse, according to the manner of our ancestors.

"And I direct the said Annie H. Ide to add to the said name of Annie H. Ide the name Louise—at least in private—and I charge her to use my said birthday with moderation and humanity, the said birthday not being so young as is once said, and having carried me in a very satisfactory manner since I can remember. And in case the said Annie H. Ide shall neglect or contravene either of the above conditions I hereby revoke the donation and transfer my rights in the said birthday to the President of the United States of America for the time being."

"In witness whereof I have hereto set my hand and seal this 19th day of June in the year of grace eighteen hundred and ninety-one."

"Robert Louis Stevenson."

"David Osborne,"

"Harold Watts."

FOES OF UNIONISM.

Methods of Industrial Workers—Organized Labor.

The general executive board of the United Cloth Hat and Cap Makers' Union of North America has issued another circular attacking the methods used by the Industrial Workers of the World, the new industrial union. The circular is indorsed by the American Federation of Labor and is being sent out from the headquarters of the latter organization in Washington.

Several instances are cited in the circular where the Industrial Workers of the World have initiated men imported by the Cap Manufacturers' association in the effort to establish the open shop, and the industrialists are working hand in hand with the employers to wreck the regular organization of capmakers.

One instance is cited of a lockout in Detroit where the Industrial Workers induced a firm to break its agreement with the regular union and to expel from the plant with the assistance of the police all the union workers.

—Labor Notes.

Over $1,503,000 was paid in sick and death benefits last year by unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

It is reported that a movement to oust President Con P. Shea from the head of the Teamsters' union is developing in Chicago. The opposition has arisen among former friends of the strike leader and includes many of his former lieutenants, among the number being Hugh McGee and Albert Young.

It is generally conceded that there are at present somewhere between 25 and 30 per cent of spidery idle in the south because it is impossible to obtain an adequate supply of operatives to run them.

Jacksonville (Fla.) trades unionists have a labor temple. Members of the building trades lent their assistance as builders in its erection, while the other crafts donated the money for the material.

Result of Labor Organization.

Before the advent of trades unions, or less than 100 years ago, men, women and children worked thirteen and fourteen hours per day and in a great many places sixteen hours. As late as 1800 women and children began work in some factories in New England at 4:30 in the morning and worked an hour or two after sunset.

The original American factories were governed by oppressive regulations, in which the worker had no voice. There was a time in the history of this country when the workers were taxed to support the churches and fined if habitually absent from religious worship.

Whether engaged in a battle for wages, hours or other conditions of labor, whether in the economic or political arena, always bear in mind, men of labor, your first duty is loyalty to your trades union.—Samuel Gompers.

"I'll say one thing for Souleigh. He generally knows when he has had enough."

"But then he's too far gone to know anything else."—American Spectator.

SOME REASONS

Why Barre People Should Follow This Valuable Advice.

Because the proof is in Barre. You can easily investigate it. Not necessary to experiment. With some untiring remedy. Profit by the experience of a citizen.

Mrs. Frank Jones of 80 South Main street, Barre, Vt., says: "About five years ago I had such an awful pain in my back that I could hardly get around the house. If I arose quickly after stooping I had spells of dizziness and dark spots before my eyes, while at night it was almost impossible for me to sleep. I was so restless. One day when my back was so bad that I had to go around in a stooped position I was advised to get Doan's Kidney Pills at E. A. Brown's drug store. I procured a supply and commenced taking the remedy. In a few days I knew I was being benefited, for my back became stronger and better. I continued taking Doan's Kidney Pills until the pains in my back disappeared. I had no more of the dizziness and could sleep well at night. At times since then, when I overwork or take cold, there have been recurrences of the trouble in a mild form. I then take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to relieve me. My husband has also used this medicine with the same beneficial results. We would not be without them in the house."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

LOW WAGES AND CRIME.

What an Investigation of German Statistics Disclosed.

A German investigator has been examining the relation between the prevailing rate of wages in various sections of the country and the amount of crime and has reached some very important conclusions, which are published in the Berlin Neue Zeit. He first gives a table showing thirty-six districts, which are arranged according to the proportion of criminals to legally responsible persons in each district. The table gives the proportions in figures and also compares this proportion with the lowest average daily wage. From this table:

"It appears that the ten districts which make the best showing, with a single exception, have the best wage figures. Among the thirteen districts of average criminality seven have relatively good day wages, and among the thirteen districts which make the worst showing Berlin is the only district which has a relatively good daily wage. However, the high criminality of Berlin is due to conditions which have nothing to do with wages. In fact, those persons who are employed in Berlin and in reference to whom, therefore, the daily wage may be considered show no high criminal average. But it is only natural that Berlin, with its exceptional opportunities for crime, should be a great center of attraction for the criminal classes."

After examining the general criminal statistics the writer considers the special department of theft, and his tables here show the conditions even more strikingly. Out of fourteen provinces the six which show the highest criminal record are those in which the day's wage is the lowest, and the reverse is equally true—that is, the higher the wages the less the criminality. "These figures show how all other causes of crime fade before the great cause—social misery."

QUESTIONING CANDIDATES.

Unanimously Approved by American Federation of Labor.

At the last convention of the American Federation of Labor the executive council reported as follows:

"The systematic questioning of candidates is gaining in importance each year. More and more our state branches, central bodies and local unions are realizing the system's usefulness. It enables our people to prevent the evasion of issues by party machines, and the self interests of candidates causes them to answer favorably in most cases. And the success of organized labor's political work without engaging in party politics strengthens the union in the sentiment of its members and increases their number."

"Co-operation is also advanced with other interests, such as organized farmers. In Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas the organized farmers, with organized wage earners, are questioning candidates as to the establishment of the people's sovereignty in place of machine rule. This is accomplished without a formal alliance."

"We recommend the general use of the questioning of candidates system. An extra number of the American Federationist, July 15, 1904, describes the system."

The committee to whom the above was referred reported as follows:

"We heartily indorse the recommendation of the executive council that the questioning of candidates system be brought into general use. Wherever this system prevails the opportunity of securing favorable legislation is enhanced."

On motion the report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Wages of 20,000 Increased.

A voluntary wage increase of 10 per cent has been granted all cotton mill employees in Danielson, Moosey, Jewett City, Wauregan and many other places in Windham and New London counties, Conn. The action of the mill owners affects 20,000 persons.

Dresden's Dog Bath.

At Dresden a new bath for dogs has been opened for the convenience of busy people who have not the time to look after the cleanliness of their own pets. Dogs are left at the bath by men on their way to business, and during the day they are kept in kennels, cared for, given a wash and a good rub down, clipped if necessary and returned to their master when the day's work is done.
